The cover of the book 'Trade Winds 2011' features a sunburst pattern in shades of light blue and white at the top. Below this, a vibrant rainbow with distinct bands of red, orange, and yellow curves across the middle. The bottom section returns to the sunburst pattern. The title 'Trade Winds' is printed in a large, bold, black sans-serif font, and the year '2011' is printed in a similar bold, black font at the bottom right.

Occupy Wall Street is a movement that began on September 17, 2011 in Liberty Square in Manhattan's Financial District, and has spread to over 100 cities in the USA. OWS fights back against major banks and multinational corporations over the democratic process, and the role of Wall Street in creating an economic collapse that has caused the greatest recession in generations.

Muammar Gaddafi, leader of Libya for 42 years from 1969 to 2011, died on October 20, 2011 during the 2011 Libyan civil war. Gaddafi was captured alive after his convoy was attacked by NATO warplanes as Sirte fell. He was then killed by NTC forces.

On July 5, after a lengthy controversial trial, a jury of seven women and five men acquitted Casey Anthony of killing her daughter, 2-year-old Caylee, but found her guilty of lying to investigators. Caylee's remains were found in December 2008 near the Anthony family home, six months after she was last seen.

Osama bin Laden, the face of global terrorism and architect of the Sept. 11, 2001, attacks, was killed in a firefight with elite American forces, then quickly buried at sea in a stunning finale to a furtive decade on the run. "Justice has been done," President Barack Obama said in a dramatic announcement at the White House while a crowd cheered outside and hundreds more gathered at ground zero in Manhattan to celebrate the news.
